Introduction

Planning your company's annual shareholder meeting is a process that can be filled with complexities of all kinds – from complying with regulatory issues to navigating industry challenges to flawlessly executing the mechanics.

We're pleased to offer you this guide as a single source for all aspects relating to your annual meeting.

Equiniti Trust Company (EQ) understands that your annual meeting is much more than a requirement to meet regulatory obligations. It offers your company an opportunity to build and strengthen vital relationships, face-to-face, with your registered and employee shareowners. EQ's annual meeting and proxy services will allow you to demonstrate the care you have for your investors while exceeding their expectations. What's more, a successful meeting will support key corporate goals, whether that's obtaining approval for a planned corporate action or addressing issues relating to executive compensation.

There are numerous milestones and key deliverables that require coordination between your transfer agent, the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), Employee Stock Plan Administrator(s) and other third parties. EQ serves as your single point of contact, seamlessly addressing all regulatory requirements, mechanical aspects of the meeting and your unique considerations, allowing your team to focus on your strategic business imperatives.

EQ's Annual Meeting Planning Guide is designed to serve as a key resource to help you through the entire planning process. In this guide you will find:

Meeting preparation tips and guidelines

- We'll walk you through the entire planning process, highlighting key considerations and outlining how EQ will simplify your role as well as identifying opportunities for cost savings. Use our helpful planning questionnaire to identify specific requirements and confirm key deliverables.

Event timelines

- Not only must regulatory requirements be met for compliance with the SEC's Notice and Access solution, but it's also important to plan accordingly for electronic voting options, householding and other major components.

Sample forms and material

- Helpful templates to customize corporate documentation.

Corporate governance considerations

The regulatory landscape, corporate governance issues and shareholder activism continue to play a major factor in annual meeting planning.

Traditional issues, such as obtaining a quorum and electing directors, remain a constant factor. Weighty considerations often include:

- Short solicitation periods (from mailing to meeting)
- Super-majority vote requirements
- Heavy institutional ownership, including institutions with voting guidelines that rely on the recommendations of influential organizations such as Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS)
- Brokers have limited "discretionary" voting authority
- Increased street-name ownership that requires the fulfillment of proxy material, whether printed or electronic
- Low stock prices, reflecting the sentiment of disenfranchised investors

- Coordination of fulfillment of street-name shareholders and/or multiple vendors' processes

Through our affiliates, D.F. King & Co., Inc. and EQ Fund Solutions, a team of skilled professionals will translate complex legal and compensation consultants' governance advice into tactical plans for obtaining the shareholder votes required to fulfill your corporation's proposals. Our Proxy Solicitation and Corporate Governance Advisory Services specialists employ a proactive, year-round advisory model rather than treating your annual meeting as a one-time event.

For example, we can provide a quarterly report that details changes to your ownership base from a proxy voting perspective, delivers regulatory updates and their expected impact, as well as including a discussion of emerging best practice responses. These regular updates can help you identify potential risk factors earlier in the annual meeting planning process, when there is time for effective analysis and response to mitigate their potential impact.

Proxy solicitation

As a leading proxy solicitor known for managing some of the most complex solicitations and communication challenges, we offer clients an informed perspective on a wide range of 5 shareholder, corporate governance, and proxy-related issues through our affiliates D.F. King & Co., Inc. and EQ Fund Solutions. These optional services offered to clients include:

- Mutual fund proxy solicitation
- Information agent services
- Shareholder activism advisory services
- Shareholder identification services
- Capital markets consulting
- Credit markets intelligence
- Regulatory compliance & tax audit studies

With our proven history of consultative, flexible and accountable partnerships, you can be confident that you've engaged a provider who can offer you a proxy solicitation solution built to accommodate your specific business objectives. This is a solution supported by our corporate discipline of project and risk management, secure infrastructure, deeply experienced support teams, and at the front line, tenured talented service professionals. This allows us to deliver reliability, flexibility, and broad scalability.

As your solicitation agent, EQ's team will serve as a trusted advisor. In advance of your solicitation, we will:

- Project likely voting by your larger institutional investors on your potential voting issues.
- Evaluate which of these investors practice internally-driven voting, versus those who typically follow proxy advisor recommendations.
- Indicate if your compensation practices or other issues will trigger negative proxy advisor recommendations.
- Provide an objective review of your draft proxy, ensuring clarity rather than ambiguity.
- Assist you in developing relationships with the governance leaders and proxy voters within your larger investors who've demonstrated a willingness to engage with portfolio companies in advance of proxy season – sharing their perspective, policies and hot button issues.
- Help fine-tune your proxy disclosures to reflect your pre-proxy dialogue with top investors.

During the solicitation campaign we:

- Provide real-time interpretation of street-name voting patterns, identifying which significant investors represent blocks of votes cast in custodial (not investor) name.
- Recommend follow-up solicitation with larger unvoted retail investors, balancing costs against likely incremental supportive vote pickup.
- Help avoid "surprise" negative votes and director withholds, ensuring that you can advise your Board of Directors that you took all prudent steps to preempt this and mitigate risk.
- Help you effectively communicate with your registered and employee shareholders via multiple channels, including:

- Dedicated, toll-free access to experienced Customer Service Representatives (CSRs), trained as your company "specialists"
- Online live chat with CSRs
- A flexible Interactive Voice Response (IVR) system

These vehicles provide shareholders with resources to further their understanding of your proxy proposals. What's more, for our transfer agent clients, we hold both the registered and employee files and related tabulation records, promoting the seamless addition of proxy advice and solicitation data.

Our role continues after the annual meeting. We provide a post-meeting analysis of which investors cast negative votes and why. This is necessary to facilitate effective post-event engagement and is intended to correct the underlying causes for the negative votes.

What's more, as your ownership base turns over throughout the year we deliver regular updates that summarize new influential shareholders, their voting practices and degree of proxy advisor reliance. As an added benefit, we will also share the best practice and lessons learned by other clients.

Please reach out to your Relationship Manager who will coordinate a discussion with our team to evaluate how we can help you meet your corporate goals through our consultative and highly effective proxy solicitation and corporate governance advisory services.

Notice & Access

The SEC's mandate that issuers offer shareholders a cookie free, web-based method to access proxy and annual meeting materials has been in effect since 2009. This requires you to, at minimum, post a full set of annual meeting materials on your transfer agent's website. This material must be easily accessible, searchable and downloadable for local printing. Issuers may opt for one of two Notice and Access compliant methods.

NOTICE ONLY. Using this method, issuers mail a “Notice” to shareholders no fewer than 40 days prior to your annual meeting that provides the below information in plain English:

- Announcement of availability of proxy materials for your shareholder meeting
- The date, time and location of your meeting, including instructions for attendees
- Each proposal that will be presented, along with your company’s recommendation (no supporting materials need to be sent)
- The web address for online access
- Instructions for requesting hard copy material (with the deadline for making this request), including a toll-free telephone number. This must be delivered within three business days of the shareholder’s request via first class mail.
- A unique shareholder identifier (e.g. control number) for accessing this online information
- Instructions for electronic voting (via telephone and Internet)

You may send shareholders a physical proxy card ten days following the Notice’s distribution.

FULL SET DELIVERY. Using this traditional method, issuers distribute a full set of annual meeting materials, including the annual report, proxy statement, proxy card and return envelope. Instructions for accessing materials online are included. As an option, we can also include the instructions for electronic voting.

Based on your shareholder profile, you may elect to use a combination of these methods. Please reach out to your Relationship Manager to discuss these options.

Beneficial holders

Beneficial shareowners hold their shares in street name at a broker dealer. Most broker dealers have outsourced proxy notifications to vendors such as Broadridge Financial Services or Mediant Financial.

These vendors, on behalf of the broker dealers, facilitate communications between you and your non-registered shareholders. Be sure to indicate your notice and access delivery preference with designated vendors.

EQ will notify vendors of your record and meeting dates, requesting confirmation of the quantity required to mail to beneficial owners as of the record date. We encourage clients to allow EQ to coordinate your beneficial holder process, and maintain a single point of control and access to all of your proxy-related activities.

The annual meeting an overview

The annual meeting process is multi-faceted and requires expert coordination of its mechanical requirements. From broker search to proxy material to shareholder voting options, EQ's Proxy and Annual Meeting Services employ a discipline of specialized knowledge, in-depth consultation and flawless execution.

Our approach begins with a clear understanding of your goals for the event. Typical considerations are ensuring a quorum is obtained, electing the board’s nominees, and passing board proposals. We do so via your Relationship Manager (RM), who will expertly manage the entire process related to your registered, plan, and street elements.

Broker search

EQ manages the preparation and distribution of search cards to brokers, banks, nominees and record holder/respondent banks. Our Broker Search Unit will provide your RM with the amount of material required to mail to beneficial holders, which must take place at least 20 business days prior to the record date as required by SEC Rule 14a-13.

EQ’s broker search process is automated. Upon client notification, we notify the various brokers, banks and nominees via Broadridge. Third parties easily log on to our system to advise material needs for “street name” holders. Brokers generally respond with an estimate within seven business days upon receipt of the request for materials. Final counts are confirmed three days after record date.

We will then add these numbers to the total quantity required. You may also want to account for any extra material (e.g. for internal use, to have onsite at the annual meeting, etc.)

Depository trust & Clearing corporation

Authorization Letter to DTCC: Page 31
DTCC Registration: Page 33

The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation (DTCC) oversees security positions of banks and brokers. These entities are important to your vote and issuers must secure critical information online from the DTCC using its Security Position Reports (SPR). Clients utilize www.dtcc.com to register their companies to receive securities position listings online, as well as to authorize others within their organizations and third parties, such as EQ and independent solicitors, to view, print and download this data.

Your EQ Relationship Manager will SEAMLESSLY address all of your needs.

Electronic consent and distribution of meeting material

Web Hosting Requirements: Page 19

EQ can help you increase your shareholders' adoption of this efficient and cost effective method for fulfilling your annual meeting material. The more consented investors you have, the greater the savings on traditional stock, printing and postage-related expenses. The online enrollment process is secure, fast and easy.

File consolidation and integrated voting tabulation of employee data

Many of our clients have employee stock plans managed by outsourced plan administrators. The coordination and consolidation of these files are a routine event for EQ. EQ offers what it refers to as a "uni-card" option. This feature combines multiple holdings on a single proxy card. Thus, a shareholder with shares in the common stock, restricted stock plan and 401(k) plan can receive a single proxy card with all three accounts.

Please be advised that if the "uni-card" option is selected, your proxy card must be modified slightly to allow room on the reverse side for a listing of the shares represented by the combined proxy card.

We do encourage our clients to request that your plan administrator(s) provide us with employees' email addresses. In turn, we will email a unique control number to each employee with a link to the proxy materials and EQ's proxy voting website. Contact your Relationship Manager for file transmission guidelines.

Mail consolidation – householding & merging

Householding and Merging Timeline: Page 23
Sample Householding Letter: Page 28

Issuers may opt to consolidate a mailing by sending a single copy of the annual report and proxy statement to multiple accounts. EQ offers two options to execute this – one by merging multiple cards for an individual into a package, and the other by combining individual cards that belong to shareholders within the same household into a single package. There are potential savings in combining multiple proxy cards into a single package. The company can reduce postage expenses as well as printing costs for additional annual reports.

The most comprehensive method of combining packages is known as householding. In this scenario, proxy cards for individuals with the same last name who reside at the same address can be combined into a single package with only one set of materials. Thus, a couple who holds shares in their own name and in the names of their children, will receive only one package.

Because valid addresses can be presented in various formats, EQ runs the entire company database through postal standardization software that produces a uniform 12-digit extended zip code. EQ matches on this extended zip, as well as on the alpha coding, for the last name that is carried on EQ's systems.

For those that opt to household, implied consent is applied and may be revoked by the record holder. Issuers may opt to mail a single copy of the annual report and proxy statement when multiple shareholders reside at a single address.

The letter of authorization to consent to householding must be mailed no fewer than 60 days prior to the annual meeting. This is an important cost-savings option where the size of your householded registered shareowner base will determine the reduction in your shareowner expense. That is, the larger the percentage, the greater the savings.

Physical material fulfillment

Physical and Electronic Material Specifications: Page 37

EQ will employ sophisticated postal discounts to minimize postage expenses for first-class domestic mail, expedited flat mail, etc.

EQ's Mail Services Group oversees the entire process, ensuring strict control points and quality assurance protocols as well as the management of our network of state-of-the-art equipment and capacity planning.

Electronic voting

EQ offers turnkey electronic voting options that broaden your registered and employee shareowner's proxy voting options. You will benefit from a quicker return of votes, reduction of material and postage expenses and increased shareowner satisfaction.

Notice and access compliant solution

Notice and Access Timeline: Page 23

Authorization Letter to Beneficial Holder Provider: Page 30

EQ fully supports the SEC's "Notice and Access" model for proxy material. Our online platform allows shareholders to view nominees' names and proposal text exactly as they appear on the proxy card and in your proxy statement. We also offer hosting, electronic voting (by phone or Internet) and fulfillment processing.

Integrated proxy tabulation

Proxy votes are seamlessly integrated as they are scanned, received electronically (by telephone and Internet) and received by transmission from the beneficial holder providers. EQ's systems collect, validate and tabulate confidential and weighted votes as well as integrate consolidated files such as 401(k), ESOP, ESPP, etc. An additional feature exists where an authorized solicitor can vote online.

Shareholders may vote for multiple issues during the same session and may vote as often as they wish, but only the last vote received is tabulated. Aggregate tabulation results are available 24/7 via our proprietary management reporting tool Proxy Central.

Management reporting

Proxy tabulation reports are sent automatically to designated company personnel via email each morning beginning two weeks prior to your shareholder meeting. Online management reports via Proxy Central provide a number of standard reporting options, including:

- Proxy totals report/tabulation summary by proposal, per issue
- Registered shareholder totals report/ tabulation summary
- Top 50 registered shareholder proxy report
- Top 50 un-voted registered shareholder report
- Broker totals report/tabulation summary
- Ability to reflect "special accounts" such as restricted and unexchanged classes of stock, under the common issue
- Ability to provide a list of registered shareholders who have indicated that they will be attending the meeting

Inspector of election and onsite annual meeting support

Report of the Inspector of Election: Page 32

Certificate of Inspector of Election: Page 36

EQ can provide an Inspector of Election at your annual meeting. The Inspector is available to answer election-related questions as well as to certify any last minute ballots, accept and validate same-day ballots and finalize the preliminary or actual vote totals. Upon request, EQ can also provide an Inspector of Election by phone.

By default, EQ tabulates proxy cards using the industry standard of plurality voting. Under plurality voting, directors who receive the most “for” votes are elected; there is no “against” option and votes that are actively “withheld” or simply not cast are disregarded in the tally. Thus, in theory, a director nominee could be elected to the board by a single affirmative vote, even though all the other votes are withheld. This differs from majority voting in which individual board directors must obtain the majority of votes cast by shareholders in order to win/retain their seats. If you prefer to utilize an alternate method please alert your Relationship Manager.

Enclosures

Materials must be 8½" x 11" or less in order to fit inside a standard 9½" envelope. The maximum thickness for the final package is ½". Materials that exceed these specifications such as spiral bound or compact booklets and/or folders will require special handling (e.g. manual enclosure) and additional charges may apply.

If you have selected bulk mail, please be aware that you must have at least 250 pieces of mail to qualify for this service. If you would like Broadridge to mail standard to the street holders you will need to contact them directly.

As a result of postal delays during proxy season, EQ does not recommend mailing your proxy material via bulk mail less than six weeks before a meeting. In the event that your meeting is in less than six weeks and you would still like to mail bulk, EQ's policy requires that you provide written instructions to do so which reference the mailing date and meeting date.

The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation (DTCC) has delegated much of the responsibility of interfacing with brokers and nominees to the corporation, their proxy solicitors and transfer agents. This practice encompasses furnishing sets of proxy material to the participating brokers and nominees and the subsequent voting process.

It has been normal policy for these depositories to send record date listings and omnibus proxies to your company shortly after the record date.

Prior to your record date, you must provide EQ (email your Relationship Manager) with a copy of each omnibus proxy received for participating brokers, respondent banks and nominees you receive in order to tabulate the broker position. Please retain copies for your files.

The DTCC does provide hard copy security position reports (SPR) and will not furnish this data either by subscription or as a special one-time order. Issuers must register their company to access data online. As part of the registration process, you will also be asked to authorize company designees and third party agents, including EQ. Please refer to the registration instructions provided below.

The primary registrant must be a company officer and use an email address associated with the company's domain name (e.g. john@corporationname.com).

A manifest must accompany each incoming shipment and include the below information:

- Name, telephone number and address of vendor (if applicable)

- Total quantity of each piece delivered

EQ will verify the material quantity and our receiving count will prevail. EQ will not be liable for shortages based on the suppliers' stated quantities.

Special notes

1. Material arriving for same-day mailings must be marked "Same-Day Mailing" so that we may expedite material to our production areas. Expedited fees may apply in these cases and may jeopardize scheduled mail date.
2. Trucks will be unloaded on a first come, first served basis.
3. Large quantities or heavy materials delivered in a van or small truck that necessitates unloading by hand will not be accepted without prior authorization from the receiving supervisor. If unloading by hand is required, there will be an hourly charge, with a minimum charge of one hour.

4. Materials that are poorly packed or mis-packed may adversely affect the production running rates, possibly altering the price per thousand billed on the project.

5. Incomplete information may delay processing and result in additional handling fees.

6. Deliveries should be scheduled ahead of time by calling the EQ Mail Services group at (201) 528-4200.

7. Printed materials should be delivered at least three business days prior to mail date to ensure mailing on the requested date. Any material arriving on same day of scheduled mail date could potentially jeopardize the mailing.

8. Material will be accepted between the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Please alert EQ of any late deliveries or those made after business hours by calling our Hotline at (201) 528-4200.

Pallet specifications

- Maximum pallet measurements are not to exceed 48" in length (closed side) x 42" in width (open side).
- Four-way entry pallets are requested.
- Pallet height not to exceed 60".
- Pallet load not to exceed 2,500 pounds.
- There should be no double-stacking of pallets, as double stacking can cause damage to materials. This damage can result in high spoilage during production.

Pallet packing

- All material should be packed in cartons, with the exception of books (i.e., annual report, 10K, catalogue) and forms, as noted below.
- Corrugated cartons should be at least 200 pound-tests.
- Cartons must be packed in solid block pattern. (No space between cartons).
- Each pallet must be shrink-wrapped.
- Books should be power packed rather than boxed.

- Forms that are fan-folded with a depth of up to and including 14" should be packed in cartons; all other forms should be shipped on rolls with no more than two rolls per pallet.

Each pallet must be clearly marked with a packing label containing the following information:

- Vendor's name (when applicable)
- Client's name
- EQ company number
- Number of total pallets in shipment
- Component description (i.e., brochure, #10 OE, letter, RM, etc.)
- Identifying Lot/Key/Code/Company # for the material
- If shipment is a reorder of exact same materials, identify with mailman's existing item number for that material
- Number of cartons or rolls
- Quantity on pallet
- Mixed materials are only to be on one pallet and all Lot/Key/Code/Company # information is to be documented on the packing slip and manifest. Materials should never be mixed in power packs.
- Power packs must have one sample attached to one side of the pallet.

Cartons

- Cartons must be sized to a "glove fit" and must be packed solidly to prevent shifting or curling of components.
- All materials received in cartons must be packed so that they face the same direction.
- Materials that are banded within the carton must be banded using paper bands. Rubber bands, string ties and shrink-wrap are unacceptable as they can cause damage to the material, which could result in excess spoilage and may affect production-running time.
- Any layers and/or breaks in material must be marked using cardboard separators.
- Maximum individual carton weight is 50 pounds.
- All cartons should be shrink-wrapped to the skid.

Each carton or roll must be clearly identified with the following information:

- Vendor's name
- Client's name
- EQ company number
- Component description (i.e., brochure, #10 OE, Letter, RM, etc.)
- Identifying Lot/Key/Code/Company # for materials
- If shipment is a reorder of exact same materials, identify with mailman's existing item number for those materials.
- Quantity in carton or on roll
- Sample affixed to outside of carton, not necessary for rolls
- Box/roll number of total boxes/rolls in shipment
- Each carton/roll on the mixed pallet should contain Lot/Key/Code/Company # identifiers and should be sequentially numbered (i.e., 1 of 10, 2 of 10, etc.)
- Under no circumstances should your vendor mix different components in the same carton.

Power packing

- Power packs consist of cardboard wrapped around the materials, shrink-wrapping and bands in both directions.
- Corner boards are not recommended, as they will not fully protect the material.
- Multiple layers of materials must have each layer separated by a solid sheet of either chipboard, corrugated cardboard or paper bands, and must be faced.

Roll stock

- Roll materials are to be placed on good sound skids in vertical roll position (roll-off position). Do not place flat (poker chip style).
- All rolls should have chucks in the core.
- Rolls should be braced at the base with strong wedges and banded to the skid. Larger rolls tend to shift in transit and may require extra banding.
- Ensure that rolls not overhang pallets, as they will become damaged during transit.

- Add chipboard to protect forms at top of roll.
- Vinyl flags should be used to identify splices and bad areas. Mark "SP" for splice and "NG" for no good.
- With a marking pen, mark the bad areas between flags on the roll.
- All rolls should be shrink-wrapped to the skid.

Mail standards

This section outlines general guidelines for the size and classes of mail as well as EQ's capacity for mail machine insertions. First class and Standard A packages sizes are as follows:

Letter-Size Mail

- Minimum size: 5" x 3½" and .007" thick
- Maximum size: 11½" wide x 61/8" high and ¼" thick
- Flat size mail
- Any mail piece 9½" x 12" or 10" x 13" requires a special envelope.
- 4-piece to 6-piece standard, anything over 6-pieces hand enclosed

Mail Machine Requirements

A standard flat size envelope should not exceed 9½" x 12" in order to be machine-enclosed.

Although some jumbo mail machines can stretch to 9½" x 12½", there is a reduction in the speed of the machine which results in slower run rates and additional charges.

Once an envelope exceeds the standard size, the mail will need to be hand-enclosed.

Class specifications and delivery standards

First Class Mail.

Price is calculated based on the standard postage rate per package which must not exceed 13 ounces. Delivery is guaranteed in three to seven days.

Priority Mail.

Packages either exceeding 13 ounces or which include any proprietary data (account number, SSN, etc.) must be Priority Mail.

Standard A.

Package must weigh less than 16 ounces. When sending Standard A mail the package must be endorsed with "Bound Printed Matter" on the outside of the envelope. Additional charges for zone sorting will be incurred.

In these cases, where applicable EQ may employ Presort U.S. Postal Service discounts.

Electronic material delivery

Where EQ is printing your annual meeting material, please email your Relationship Manager for instructions.
